

CONVERSATIONS in GENETICS

AN ORAL HISTORY OF OUR INTELLECTUAL HERITAGE IN GENETICS

The Genetics Society of America has begun development of a collection of videotaped conversations with geneticists who have made major contributions to the conceptual foundations of modern genetics.

“Conversations in Genetics” promises to become a rich resource for anyone interested in the history of genetics and the evolution of scientific ideas. The individual presentations reflect the thoughts and feelings of accomplished researchers as they recall their research moments and describe the paths they took during various phases of their lives.

This series is being produced by the GSA under the direction of Rochelle Easton Esposito and a GSA committee including Thomas Kaufman, Elliot Meyerowitz, David Stadler, Iris Sandler, and Elaine Strass. Video production by Aaron Stadler, Fat Cat Vdo.
